Game Tester&Ludologist

Profile

Fascinated and highly experienced PC gamer with thousands of hours spent playing various games. I also have acquaintance in PC building and software and hardware repairing. I have built my own PC by myself and whenever someone from my family and friends has a problem with their computer I am always willing to help. Furthermore, apart from playing on PC, I am playing on smartphone with both iOS and Android systems.

Currently I am at 1st degree of IT studies. I am on my 6th out of 7 semesters, so I am close to completing them. I have learned a lot of programming languages (especially Java, C++ or Python), as well as MS Office apps like Excel or Access, so they are no stranger to me.
